Ever wonder how a zipper zips?...The transparent sheler above—magnified 6 times -shows you the fiscenating unside story of how a sipper's scoops mesh together. Looks simple...but considering that the average Talon groper has more than 240 new metal scoops--- all fashioned within a tolerance of 3/1000 of an inch-it's amezingly complex. Yet, day after day, almost 250 miles of just such completely uniform Talon ginners roll off the line-each one working with superb precision.
